Residents of This Area Assure Highway Commission of Free Right-of-Way for Construction

Advise State to Quit Right-Way Business

By LEON HATCH

TEXARKANA (AP) — The chairman of the Texas Highway Commission last night advised the state of Arkansas to "get out of the right-of-way business."

E. H. Thornton Jr., a Galveston attorney, declared that the money local interests spend for right-of-way returns many fold to them — as well as the state at large — in increased gasoline taxes from greater use and in higher property values.

The Arkansas Highway Commission has been following a procedure — which Chairman Raymond insists is not a "policy" — of committing construction, especially in secondary roads in rural areas, in return for obstruction-free right-of-way being furnished without cost to the state.

The Arkansas County Judges Association has criticized the practice and has said that the commission should follow what the association interprets as the letter of the law and pay for half the right-of-way on secondary roads and the full cost on primary thoroughfares.

The state of Texas has never paid for right-of-way, not even for costly expressways through large cities, and the system has worked well in that state, Thornton said.

News Briefs

KEO (UP) — Gremlins continue to dog cotton duster pilots in Arkansas.

A plane flown by Jim Brenner, pilot for Beigart Bros. Duster Service blew a tire and flipped over it as it landed in a field near here yesterday. Brenner walked away unhurt and the plane was not badly damaged.

Richard Gillette, 23, another duster pilot, crashed in a dry bayou near Scott Wednesday after his plane ripped through a power line. He suffered only minor cuts and bruises.

Earlier this week, four duster planes valued at $25,000 were destroyed in a fire on the Arthur W. Campbell plantation near Scott. Police suspect arson.

JONESBORO (UP) — David Lawrence, 13, owes his life today to an unidentified young boy who fished him from the bottom of a swimming pool here.

David, standing by the diving board, suddenly slipped unconscious into the deep water. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. N. Lawrence, were nearby but could not swim.

Two young boys dived in and brought David to the surface. Pool manager Bob DeWitt and lifeguard fished him out and applied artificial respiration, later adding a resuscitator. David came to in about 20 minutes. But his young benefactors had disappeared.

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UP) — The Pine Bluff, Ark., Sand & Gravel Co. was apparent low bidder on two Missouri river projects.

The bids were announced yesterday by the U. S. Army Engineers. One project involves dune and revetment work 12 miles upstream from St. Joseph, Mo., for a distance of 50 river miles. The bid was for $288,950 as against a government estimate of $376,365.

The bid on the other job, two miles downstream from Atchison, Kan., was for $223,389 as compared to the government estimate of $270,344.

LITTLE ROCK (UP) — Arkansas State Police have joined State Revenue Department agents in cracking down on the illegal cigarette traffic in Arkansas.

Police Director Lindsey Hatchett said his troopers will catch all border areas for cigarettes being smuggled tax-free into the state. Revenue Commissioner Vance Scurlough said a "large volume" of cigarettes is being smuggled into Arkansas from other states. The state tax is 6 cents a pack, much higher than most bordering states.

American Native
The turkey is a native American bird. When the Spaniards conquered Mexico in the 16th century, they found turkeys in the gardens of the Aztecs. Our domestic turkey has been bred from the descendants of wild birds taken to Europe from Mexico by Spanish explorers.

First Victim of Polio This Year Is Hospitalized

Jackie Willett, 13-year-old son of J. L. Willett of Hope, was admitted to St. Michael's Hospital at Texarkana Wednesday for treatment of polio.

The child's physician said his case has been diagnosed as polio, but no paralysis is involved. He was the 27th case to be admitted this year in comparison to 115 last year. So far as is known this is the first polio case of the year for Hempstead.

Washington Workers Join Phone Strike

WASHINGTON (UP) — The CIO Communications Workers of America established picket lines around telephone exchanges in the District of Columbia and in scattered sections of Maryland and West Virginia today.

The pickets sought to back up the union's wage demands. It has been asking for pay increase of from $2 to $3 a week.

The Chesapeake & Potomac Telephone Co. used supervisors to keep the switchboards going. A company spokesman said a service would not be affected because of use of automatic equipment.

The union claimed more than 7,000 operators and maintenance and commercial workers were out in the Washington area. The company insisted the strike was only about 50 percent effective.

Union headquarters for West Virginia reported pickets around exchanges in Charleston, Wheeling, Clarksburg, Fairmont, Moundsville, and Weirton. The company claimed that up to 50 percent of the workers in some West Virginia exchanges have refused to go out.

The union reported pickets at 12 exchanges in five Maryland cities — Towson, Baltimore, S. A. 11 subway, Annapolis and Laurel. There were two to four pickets at each exchange, the union said.

Weather to Be Hot, Dry

By The Associated Press
More hot and dry weather was in prospect today in wide areas in the eastern half of the nation.

No general cooling or rain appeared in sight for at least a couple of days in the hot belt which extended from the Plains states to the Atlantic Seaboard.

Weather records for the date again were broken in many cities yesterday. Temperatures soared into the 90's over most of the central part of the country for the third straight day.

A Man Misses That Full Moon in the Country But Remembers That Paycheck Is in the City

By HAL BOYLE
WOODLAND, N. Y. (UP) — The full moon is often man's enemy in the city.

It stirs in him an old disquiet, an ancient tumult of the blood, and whispers in his heart:

"What are you doing here, city child? How can you breathe in all this steaming concrete? Have you forgotten the feel of the wind on a hill?"

This silent message sends a surge of restlessness through the sad, grownup children of the city. The meekest wives start quarrels with their husbands. The mild men look around for a cop to pick a fight with. And lovers weep with out reason and wonder how long love lasts.

As many a veteran police sergeant or bartender what the full moon does to people, and you'll get the answer:

"It makes them crazy. I wish they'd all leave town." And that's not a bad idea. If everybody left town during a full moon and went out to the country,

Downward Budget Curve Is Hailed

By CHARLES F. BARRETT

WASHINGTON (UP) — Congressional leaders today hailed a new, downward curving Eisenhower administration budget as a step toward lower taxes and a clincher against raising the federal debt limit now.

The new budget scaled down by two billion dollars the estimates of just a few months ago on federal spending, the deficit and the national debt for this fiscal year, ending next June 30.

Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey, pleased as punch, said the picture is now brighter than the administration's "best expectations." We have definitely turned the corner," he told a news conference yesterday.

1. Barring unexpected changes in the picture, it will not be necessary to call Congress back into special session to raise the federal debt ceiling. That question was left up in the air when the lawmakers recessed four weeks ago.

2. The administration will propose a balanced budget for the next fiscal year.

3. Chances have lessened that further increases in total revenue will be proposed to reach the prime goal of the administration. But officials are considering all sorts of tax changes, including a national sales tax.

The new budget showed the peak has passed in spending by the military forces. This year's cash outlays were listed at $41,700,000,000, two billion under last year's rate.

But foreign aid and atomic energy spending will reach a new crest this year, with substantial reductions scheduled next year.

Reds Sending Men to Buffer Zone, Report

By EARNEST HOBERECHT

TOKYO, (UP) — The Communists have sent "more than 20 teams" of North Korean spies across the demilitarized buffer zone in Korea to get information of United Nations, it was learned today.

The spies posed as civilians fleeing from Communist rule in North Korea, reliable United Nations sources said. Most of them took orders from woman leaders.

United Nations troops saw through their scheme and captured them. "Many of them confessed," the sources said.

Each spy team told the same story, that the North Koreans expect the U. N. "to violate the truce and resume military operations in October."

Some even gave a specific date for the expected "U. N. violation." They said it would occur on Oct. 27, on the eve of the deadline for the convening of the Korean political conference.

Intelligence sources already had been considering October as a danger month because South Koreans returning to freedom from Red prison camps have sung songs with words to the effect that "We'll see you in October when the snow is flying."

As far as can be determined, the United Nations command has made no formal protests to the Communists against the infiltrations, unless the matter has been brought up secretly before the joint military armistice commission.

"If we caught 20 of these spy teams," one U. N. officer said, "there must have been others who got over and back without being detected. It's an obvious violation on the armistice agreement."

These sources said the spies disguised themselves as husband and wife, although most have not been married.

Legitimate refugees from North Korea do not need to wander across the lines, the sources said, because regular provisions in the armistice agreement cover their return to freedom.

U. N. officials believe the spy teams are being sent to scout the U. N. defense lines set up 1 1/2 miles behind the old battle line.

The sources said the new line probably is of great concern to the Reds who know it was not built under pressure and therefore probably is much stronger than anything they have hit so far.

Extended Forecast

Farmer Kills Lonely Hearts Bride

POCAHONTAS (UP) — An elderly farmer shot his 39-year-old "lonely hearts" bride and then killed himself near here yesterday just as the Randolph County sheriff raced into his farmyard in an effort to stop him.

Sheriff Guthrie Goodwin, warned of the murder-suicide plot by Sterling Byrne's letter to a neighbor, said Byrne fired the last of three shots into his forehead as Goodwin neared the house.

Mrs. Byrne's body, shot twice in the chest, was found sitting upright in a living room chair.

Byrne left a series of notes in addition to the letter he had written neighbor Claude Bragg, the day before the killings. Byrne told Bragg to call an ambulance and go to the farm where "you will find two bodies."

Coroner H. C. McNabb handed down the murder-suicide ruling. He said Mrs. Byrne was shot Wednesday night.

In one of the notes Byrne told of having met his second wife through a "lonely hearts" club and in another gave instructions for disposal of the bodies. A third asked "please turn off the fan and lock the door."

Prosecutor Carmack Sullivan said Mrs. Byrne visited his office Wednesday asking about a divorce. He said her body was fully dressed and that a half filled suitcase was found in the bedroom.

Russia Offers Aid to Iran, Sources Hint

TEHRAN, Iran (UP) — Soviet Russia has opened a campaign to woo Iran from the United States by offering it aid to meet its urgent financial crisis, well-informed Iranian sources said today.

It was reported that Soviet Ambassador Anatole Avetisyan launched the campaign yesterday in a conference with Premier Fazlollah Zahedi.

At the same time, United States Ambassador Loy W. Henderson was in conference with Shah Mohammad Reza Pahlavi — 11 k c w l s c.

It is understood, discussing the possibility of immediate aid to the Iranian government.

The Shah and Zahedi have emphasized that Iran needs immediate aid from "any country."

They have made it plain also that any immediate aid must be in the form of a gift because parliament would have to approve a loan. A parliamentary quorum cannot be formed because of the resignations which resulted from ousted Premier Mohammed Mossadegh's attempts to dissolve the majlis, the lower house.

Political quarters, and Tehran newspapers, are speculating that the United States may offer this country as much as $150,000,000 in immediate aid.

There are unconfirmed reports that the Soviets are offering Iran goods on credit, without requiring any immediate return.

Churchill Asks Closer Cooperation

LONDON (UP) — Prime Minister Winston Churchill has instructed the British delegation at the United Nations assembly in New York to work in closer cooperation with the United States, well-informed sources said today.

The British delegates were told to handle differences with the United States on Korean policy more discreetly. It was understood they were instructed to try to settle any divergence of opinion in private talks instead of giving them a public hearing to the advantage of Soviet Russia, informants said.

British opposed the United States on the rearmament of the Korean peninsula conference. But now that the United States has won the contest, the British government is prepared to go along with it fully, it is understood.

Employment Offices to Be Reduced

LITTLE ROCK (UP) — The Arkansas Employment Security Division says lack of money will force it to close eight field offices in the state and dismiss 6 employees. The order is effective Sept. 5.

Administrator Bayard Taylor said offices will be closed at Rogers, Newport, Paragould, Walnut Ridge, Arkadelphia, Morrilton, Paris and Conway.

Twenty-three of the 66 workers to be laid off are in the Little Rock office.

RETURNS FROM KOREA
SAN FRANCISCO (UP) — Master Sgt. Hust, 312 W. Union St., Magnolia, Ark., is among 608 First Marine Air Wing veterans returning to San Francisco Saturday from Korea. Hust is aboard the USS General A. E. Anderson.

Some time ago a fellow in New York sent in an inquiry about crows and now he wants people to stop sending them to him. . . he reports finding a couple in Iowa, aged 18 and 21, which were captured as fledglings and that both talk fluently, do tricks and all but wait on customers. . . and he considers it might be worthwhile for folks to make pets of them. . . he found out definitely that many crows live beyond the average 12 years but he can't take care of more than three which he already has. . . However, he suggests we don't tell our readers to quit sending the other kind.

It seems the Highway Commission's right-of-way deal is meeting with approval from everyone except the County Judges' Association. . . more than 70 persons turned out here yesterday to hear a discussion pro and con. . . It's interesting to note that the state of Texas

FBI Arrests Fugitive Red Leaders

By GLENN STACKHOUSE

SAN FRANCISCO (UP) — Two fugitive Communist party leaders were clapped behind bars today after unshaven FBI agents disguised as campers surrounded and trapped them in a remote mountain hideout in the High Sierras.

Four other persons were arrested for harboring fugitives, and the federal agents, reluctant to discuss how the trap was laid, said "we've got five other Reds to track down."

The top Communist party leaders, wanted on charges of plotting to overthrow the government, were disguised with dyed hair, mustaches and crew cuts when the FBI surrounded the well-appointed, comfortable cabin near Sonoma, Calif., yesterday.

Robert G. Thompson, 39, one of the top 11 American Reds concealed underground by the party since his conviction on Smith Act charges four years ago, was held in Alcatraz Prison.

Sidney Steinberg, also 39, a second-string Red leader who had been evading arrest since June, 1951, when 21 Communist organizers were indicted for conspiracy, was in San Francisco county jail.

All five were arraigned before U. S. Commissioner Joseph Karesch.

Americans Fail to Climb Mountain

KARACHI, India (UP) — Two American Godwin Austen expedition came back to civilization today, with the icy mountain they had sought to climb still unconquered.

Expedition co-leader Robert Bates, of Exeter, N. H., and Peter Schoeningh, of Seattle, Wash., reached the town of Skardu in the bleak Himalayan foothills two and one-half months after setting out with six companions on a vain assault on the snow-capped peak that cost the life of one man.

Reports reaching here from Murree, 10 miles southeast of Skardu, said the other four surviving Americans and a British Army captain who accompanied the expedition were cautiously negotiating the treacherous area between the base camp at Godwin Austen's 20,000-foot level and Skardu.

Then there is a four-month "cooling off" period for him to think it over. No amount of wheedling or cajoling will persuade USAF headquarters to cut the marriage red tape less than four months.

"It's for the serviceman's own protection," explains Lt. Col. J. D. Andrew, of Skyland, N. C., staff chaplain of the Seventh Air Division.

"An airman who has been in England only two weeks comes to me and says he wants to marry a girl he picked up in Piccadilly Circus. It may or may not be the real thing, but he'll have plenty of time to decide."

Andrew's job is to test the course of true love for unexpected bumps. "The chaplain told me that my American dream cottage might turn out to be a trailer on the edge of some God-forsaken air base," recalls Ayvill Rustemier, attractive 18-year-old British bride of S-Sgt. Thomas C. Rustemier, of Bancroft, Iowa.

Averil said she didn't care as long as Tom was inside the trailer, and so they were married early in the morning.

The Legionnaires copped the play-off with ease as expected and will play the State Champions in a doubleheader here this weekend.

It would be a very fitting tribute to a fine club if fans would pack the ball park Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock for the second game.

Out at Sulphur Springs, Texas, a big registered Jersey cow sale is underway and attending from Hope are Mr. and Mrs. Autry Wilson.

Second Lieutenant Ray T. West, husband of Fernie L. West of Hope, has been transferred to Fort Bliss, Texas for an assignment training newly inducted Army recruits.

He was transferred from Fort Benning, Ga.

Russia Protests in Vain; India Bows Out

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (UP) — The U. N. General Assembly today gave an overwhelming endorsement of an American-backed plan for the Korean peace conference despite vigorous Russian opposition.

The plan provides that only countries who fought under the U. N. banner should represent the world organization at the parley.

The vote was 43-5, with 10 abstaining. The Soviet bloc cast the negative vote, India did not participate.

India averted a certain defeat by withdrawing as a possible participant just before the voting began.

With United States backing, the assembly recommended that Russia could take part in the conference "provided the other side desires it." This means that, if Russia goes, she will have to sit on the Communist side with Red China and North Korea.

South Korea will sit with the U. N. delegation.

India averted a defeat in the U. N. General Assembly today by withdrawing as a possible participant in the Korean peace conference.

The announcement was made by Indian Delegate V. K. Krishna Menon as the 60-nation assembly prepared to act on proposals for setting up the peace parley.

Korea referred to the strong opposition by the United States and the Latin American bloc in the political committee and said:

"I think the purposes of peace are best reached by not forcing the resolution on India in this assembly."

India's defeat had been certain in view of the fact that yesterday.

U. S. Airmen Are Wedding British Girls

By TOM CULLEN
NEA Special Correspondent
LONDON — (NEA) — Despite a U. S. Air Force "wet blanket," American airmen are marrying British girls at the rate of 200 a month.

In the Seventh Air Division alone, wedding bells ring for six out of every thousand single men each month, while a similar number are air-bound in the Third Air Force.

For an Air Force GI, marrying a British girl is like running an obstacle course, with the Air Force brass setting up the hurdles.

First, he must get permission to marry from his squadron commander, whose heart may or may not be made of flint.

Then there is a four-month "cooling off" period for him to think it over. No amount of wheedling or cajoling will persuade USAF headquarters to cut the marriage red tape less than four months.

"It's for the serviceman's own protection," explains Lt. Col. J. D. Andrew, of Skyland, N. C., staff chaplain of the Seventh Air Division.

Sunday School Lesson

Working With God
By WILLIAM E. GILROY, D. D.

"We are laborers together with God," wrote Paul to the Christians at Corinth (1 Corinthians 3:9). That it was not just a passing thought is evident in his repetition of it as he greets his fellow workers in 11 Corinthians 6:1. "We then, as workers together with Him."

In this latter case it was the basis of Paul's plea that they should not receive the grace of God in vain.

The idea of working for God is commonly and easily acceptable. It is natural to think of every good and gracious deed as something done for God. Since He is the source of all goodness, to live and act accordingly to His love and grace is to live and work for Him.

But to work with God is something more. To share His purposes and do His will; to be creators, as God is Creator — this, surely, is man's highest privilege and destiny.

Paul thought so. It was the supreme aim of his life to attain his mission in doing the will of God. Work, for Paul, was in making the Gospel known, working with God in bringing God's love and grace into effect in the saving of men, creating in them new life and a new environment (11 Corinthians 5:17).

In this, as in other things, Paul had learned from his Master, Jesus. Jesus said, "My Father worketh hitherto, and I work."

A first condition of working with God is to believe in Him. Jesus expressed this when He said "This is the work of God, that ye believe on Him, whom He hath sent" (John 6:29).

How can we believe in God? He can become a living reality to us, if doubts ever assail us?

For myself, the strong foundation of belief in God, and the evidence of what God is, is the life of Jesus, and all that He said and did, as recorded in the New Testament. To me His words have the fullest meaning and reality: "He that hath seen Me hath seen the Father" (John 14:9).

In Jesus also we see the nature and meaning of "works" in a Christian sense. Jesus said: "The works that I do shall be (that is, the Christian believer) do also."

The work of Jesus was in giving life, healing, help, and salvation. If we raise the question of miracles, gifts of healing, etc., it might be pointed out that the benign influences, wherever Christianity has spread, has made possible "greater works" on a vast scale.

Hospitals everywhere, multitudes of nurses and doctors, organizations of men and of women for help and service, whether or not they serve in the name of Christ, are evidences of Christian work and influence.

To work with God in making His salvation powerful among men, and to work for God in promoting human welfare, is man's greatest task, unfinished in a world still languishing in sin, suffering, and oppression.

With all that has been accomplished, the greater works remain. May we all enlist as workers with God and for God!

Nine Americans Die Displacing Mines

No figures were released for the remaining 11 days since the truce.

All but five of the casualties occurred the first 10 days of the cease-fire. Apparently the number of such accidents has been cut down by a swiftly instituted safety campaign.

pression — eyebrows lifted, mouth open in changeless surprise. Always I had wondered why. And suddenly I understood. Why the man in the moon is a moralist, eternally astonished at all the stupid things he sees on earth.

Then the invisible choir of night began its hum to the moon. A cool breeze turned a green guitar — the pine tree here, the porch. Did you ever notice how even on the stillest day evergreens always make a murmurous music? That is why they are planted in cemeteries — so those who sleep in these silent cities will never lack a lullaby.

A thousand peepers began their shrill chorus. A bullfrog, the patriarch of the swamp, blew suddenly on his mighty tuba. "Jug-o-rum, jug-o-rum, jug-o-rum." The little frogs awed by this big bass cry of thirst, paused respectfully then tried to drown him out in a myriad peepings.

Somewhere an owl that feathered inquisitor, asked a terrible question, "Who? Who? Who?" And I could imagine each safely huddled rabbit reply boldly under his breath: "Not men, this time, you flat-faced snassins."

Then the bug gossip in the dark arose. One bug said, "Katy did." Another bug answered stoutly, "She did not." Pause. The second bug apparently decided that, well, maybe he was wrong after all.

"Katy did," he cried. "Katy did." The first bug immediately switched from accuser to defender. "She did not!" he said firmly. "She did not!"

Soon all the bugs were wrangling back and forth. "Katy did!" "She did not!" What was behind this old fore scandal? Who was Katy? A six-legged Helen of Troy? Or just a flighty girl insect who eloped with another lady's insect husband? The bullfrog was tired of the whole argument, and croaked for another drink. "Jug-o-rum, jug-o-rum."

The night had a million voices, and it was as if I had an ear for every sound — from a field mouse football to every sleepy bird chirp. The moon flooded me with a warm feeling of kinship for all the hidden life around men, a brotherhood of darkness and moonlight.

I felt myself a part of them, and yet apart from them, too, as you do when you look down from the Empire State building at the human ants in the streets. They were the actors in a hundred exciting dramas, and I the only audience.

But in the vaudeville show we call living nobody can stay out of the act long. I heard a familiar buzzing, slapped at and missed the mosquito on my forehead, felt the jump he left.

"That's life for you," I said aloud to the surprised man in the moon. "The innocent bystander always gets stung."

Then a voice I always obey — well, almost always — called sleepily from inside the cabin: "Are you going to stay up all night out there talking to yourself? Don't you know that's a sign of age? My feet are cold."

So to bed. I closed my eyes and turned off the moon, and awoke to find a bright sun lighting the road back to the city and the daily battle for the paycheck. Sure do miss that country moon.

day's 27-21 vote in the Political Committee was far short of the required two-thirds majority.

Menon said "we hope those who sponsored and supported us will not think we are running away from a battle, but we are trying to allay the heat of the battle."

"We have not been a candidate but we think it the best course not to force the resolution to adoption."

His announcement was greeted by applause from U. S. Delegate Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. and other opponents of India, but Soviet Delegate Andrei V. Vishinsky did not applaud.

New Zealand's Leslie Knox Munro then took the floor on behalf of the sponsoring powers and said they were withdrawing the resolution "with great regret."

Lodge welcomed Menon's move as the gesture of a "great representative of a great leader of a great nation." He said the decision of India was "generous and statesmanlike."

The assembly earlier had rejected a Soviet move for a full dress debate on the Korean peace process already approved by the Political Committee. The vote was 11 in favor, 38 against and 12 abstaining.

The decision meant that delegates were limited to brief statements explaining their votes. Immediately after India's announcement, the delegates began trooping to the rostrum to give their explanations.

The Assembly was due to adopt an American-sponsored resolution — overwhelmingly okayed by the 60-nation Political Committee yesterday — that the conference include:

1. the 16 U. N. members which supplied troops under the U. N. banner — the United States, Britain, Australia, Belgium, Canada, Colombia, Ethiopia, France, Greece, Luxembourg, The Netherlands, New Zealand, The Philippines, the Union of South Africa, Turkey and Thailand.
2. South Korea.
3. By implication, the Communist belligerents — North Korea and Communist China.
4. The Soviet Union, "provided the other Communist side desires it."

Far more miles per gallon on the trips YOU take!

On long trips, short trips, all trips, you get far greater gas mileage out of a '53 Chevrolet. It offers important savings in everyday driving over everyday roads!

Out to the golf course. Off for a week-end of fishing. Half across the country on a full-scale vacation. Wherever you go—however you drive—you're going to get there on a lot less gasoline in a fine new Chevrolet.

The truth is, this year's Chevrolet owners are enjoying the most important gain in economy in Chevrolet history. Plus more power. Faster acceleration. More "steam" for the steep hills.

That's the beauty of Chevrolet's two great high-compression engines—the new 115-h.p. "Blue-Flame" engine in Powerglide models, and the advanced 108-h.p. "Thrifty-King" engine in gearshift models. They squeeze much more out of regular gasoline—more miles, more pleasure.

Along with this greater gas mileage, you get lower over-all upkeep costs. And Chevrolet is the lowest-priced line in its field. Drop in and let us show you how you'll be better off in every way with a 1953 Chevrolet!
